

Our regular Film Club is taking a break for summer, but we are offering weekly screenings for a younger audience.

Kids aged 8 and up are welcome to attend our Friday afternoon screenings. All movies begin at 2pm and no registration is required.

The creation of the library's Current Affairs Discussion Group has led to the launch of Prior Eco Action—an environmental education group. Guest speakers will be making various presentations over the next few months. We'll post details on our website as events are finalized. We can email you details if you RSVP on our website. The link is along right side of the home page. The Current Affairs Discussion Group will resume in the fall with a variety of topics planned.

Summer is in full swing with more than 170 children already signed up for our TD Summer Reading Club and capacity attendance at the daily activities.

We're rolling out the program registration on a weekly basis and you can check out the full lineup on our website, or pick up a programming calendar at the main desk. There is room for more participants in the TD Summer Reading Club, so grab your library card and stop by for a visit to get started!

Healthy snacks are part of every program.

We threw ourselves into our artwork and rolled out a masterpiece!

July Films: Fantastic Mr. Fox (July 6th); Charlie and the Chocolate Factory (July 13th); How to Train your Dragon (July 20th); Coraline (July 27th)

August Films: Shrek (August 3rd); How to Eat Fried Works (Aug. 10th); Because of Winn Dixie (Aug. 17th)

The library's Film Group will resume in September with a mini festival of documentaries. The full lineup will be announced in August.

As your calendar starts filling up for September and beyond, you may want to keep the following dates open: We're thrilled to be hosting Sean McCann for return visit on September 29th. He's currently on tour with his new CD, There's a Place. Tickets are $30 each and will be available in a few weeks' time.

A full range of programming will be featured in October, including a multimedia event (music, art and storytelling) about Tom Thomson on October 20th.

And of course our New Year's Eve Black and White Gala returns on December 31st with more great live music, food and ambiance to ring in the new year. Details will be announced in August with tickets available then.

If you're interested in knitting and other handicrafts, consider joining our Monday morning Whatknots.

This group meets year-round (10am Mondays) in front of our downstairs fireplace. Just stop by. Everyone is welcome. There's help from experienced knitters if you're just beginning and there's lots of opportunity to socialize and talk books while you work on your individual projects.

The French Conversation Group will continue to meet Saturday afternoons during the summer and let us know if you're interested in being part of a new Spanish Conversation Group in the fall. You can RSVP your space on our website and if there's enough interest we'll launch it in October.

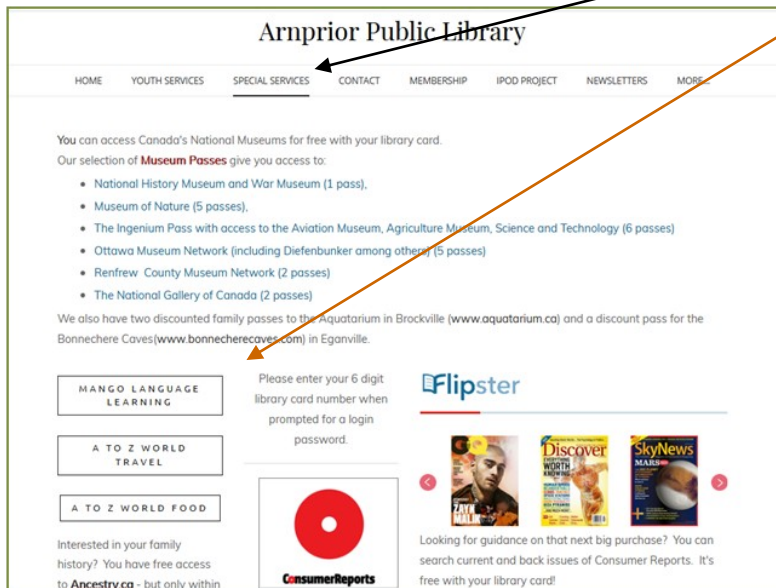

If you're interested in language learning, your library card gets you free access to Mango Languages.

Set up an account and start tracking your lessons. There are more than 70 languages to choose from.

You can access Mango Languages through our Special Services Page.

If you need assistance getting started with Mango Languages, stop by for a quick training session, or give us a call at 613-623-2279.

And... remember, we're the perfect cooling centre during those hot summer days. More than 200 people stopped by on the Canada Day holiday weekend to "Beat the Heat"!

We always offer a re-hydration station; cooled water fountain to refill your water bottle; access to Wifi and computers; loads of reading material; restrooms; fax, print and copy services; continuous book sale and more! Starting July we're also able to take Interac payments for various services including our used book sale, non-resident membership fees, fines and donations.
